

CONTOUR WELDING

---

High Flexibility

The concept of contour welding is based on the principle of laser transmission welding. A computer controlled position system moves the laser spot along any programmable geometry, whereby the irradiated places are welded together. The universal clamping device and the high flexibility of the concept permits an economic quantity production.

Watch the process for Windows or Macintosh